For Your Broken Relationship With Your Mom

Abba Father, My home life was difficult and far from a "Leave it to Beaver" image. I ask You to be my Mother and Father. Hide me under Your wings. Replace hurtful proclamations broken people made with Your words of life and hope. Heal my painful memories. Guide me into forgiveness. Reveal the good when all I see is bad. Fill my heart with compassion. Orchestrate divine opportunities for me to use my pain to help others.

Open my eyes to the deception of Satan, the true author of lies and heartbreak. He is the enemy of my soul. I invite You, Lord, into the messiness of my life. I release all bitterness, resentment, anger, and pride and lay it at Your feet. Hang on tight to it, Lord, when I want to pick it back up. Forgive my sins and help me be better instead of bitter.

I ask You to break every stronghold and generational sin in my family. I believe and declare our family belongs to You, Lord.

I'm a new creation. I am putting away the old and embracing the new. O Holy Spirit, empower me to rise above my circumstances and live abundantly. Because of Jesus' death and resurrection, I am free! Hope fills my future. I ask all of this in the mighty name of Jesus, amen!
